Frieze Art Fair 2007: Details Announced

Details of Frieze Art Fair 2007, 11 – 14 October, have today been announced by directors Amanda Sharp and Matthew Slotover. Celebrating its fifth year, Frieze Art Fair has established itself as one of the world's best known and most influential art fairs. The 2007 fair, with its tightly selected galleries and critically acclaimed artists' projects will reaffirm Frieze's reputation as the best place to see the latest developments in international contemporary art. Deutsche Bank is the fair's main sponsor for the fourth year.

The world's most exciting contemporary art galleries, representing 25 countries from the UK to China and Brazil to the USA, will present over 1000 artists at Frieze Art Fair 2007.

9 galleries will be participating at Frieze Art Fair for the first time including Casa Triângulo from Sao Paulo, Regen Projects from Los Angeles, Standard from Oslo, Taxter & Spengemann from New York and Zeno X from Antwerp. The fair will also feature the first presentation by The Fair Gallery, a new initiative which aims to develop an experimental form of collaboration between existing galleries in the form of a curated exhibition.

Whilst the number of important international collectors attending the fair and sales continue to exceed expectations every year, Frieze Art Fair has also proved to be extremely popular with artists and curators. Tickets for the 2007 Frieze Art Fair go on sale on 1 June. There were 63,000 visits to the fair in 2006, and tickets sold out on both the Saturday and the Sunday.

Amanda Sharp and Matthew Slotover commented: "Frieze Art Fair showcases the best of what is new and exciting in contemporary art from all over the world. This year's list of exhibitors is our strongest so far, featuring the world's leading galleries presenting the best available works by both established and emerging artists. Now in its fifth year Frieze Art Fair is widely acknowledged as the UK's leading art event where art is made and discussed, and the cultural agenda is set. We are delighted to be working once more with Deutsche Bank as our main sponsor, Cartier as associate sponsor, and the Guardian as our media sponsor: it is a pleasure to be working with companies that are committed to the development of contemporary art."

Neville Wakefield is the new Curator of Frieze Projects which is once again sponsored by Cartier. Frieze Projects comprise Frieze Commissions, Frieze Talks and The Cartier Award. The details of the 2007 programme will be announced in May.

In previous years Frieze Commissions have included Pawel Althamer, Phil Collins, Mike Nelson, Roman Ondák, Paola Pivi and Andrea Zittel. Frieze Talks have previously included speakers Marina Abramovic, Daniel Birnbaum, Richard Flood, Zaha Hadid and Karlheinz Stockhausen. Details of Frieze Projects, and transcripts of all Frieze Talks from previous years can be downloaded from www.frieze.com. The second recipient of The Cartier Award will have their work realised at Frieze Art Fair, and a further announcement on the award will be made later in April.

2007 will also see the continuation of the Deutsche Bank Education Programme. In 2006, this proved to be greatly popular with both children and adults alike. Full details will be released in September.

Frieze Art Fair's Sculpture Park is curated by David Thorp, and is free to all visitors to Regent's Park during the duration of the fair.

Pierre de Weck, Member of the Group Executive Committee and Global Head of Private Wealth Management Deutsche Bank comments "As an extremely keen supporter of the arts for many years, Deutsche Bank jumped at the opportunity to be associated with Frieze Art Fair and has been a proud sponsor since 2004. Since then, Frieze has emerged as one of the most exciting events of its kind not just in London, but the world. With innovations such as last year's Deutsche Bank Education Space helping to further boost the event's popularity, we look forward to this year's fair more than ever."

— End.
